ONCE again you say this as you find that expenses have eaten up all your income. How is it that other people, with no larger incomes than yours, are able to buy many things you cannot afford?

Perhaps it is because you have no definite plan of allotting your income. Our useful Memoranda Book, which the Manager will be glad to give you, contains Budgets for both families and individuals. It will help you to plan your expenses with something to spare.

A few hundred dollars in the Bank will give you a wonderful feeling of security and independence.

NOMINATIONS FOR THE PRESIDENCY OF STUDENTS' COUNCIL AND UNION HOUSE COMMITTEE OFFICES HAVE BEEN RECEIVED

Basil C. MacLean, R. B. Henry, and Howard O'Hagan for President of Council — Robert E. Dingman and T. F. M. Newton for President of Union House Committee — C. H. McNaughton and N. W. Phillpot for Vice-President of Union — Brock Jamieson, J. Herbert Murphy, and John A. Wright for Secretary of Union — Elections on March 12 — Campaign Started Amid Enthusiasm — Smoker Planned for Election Night.

At six o'clock yesterday the period for receiving nominations for the presidency of the Students' Council and the offices of the Union House Committee closed. Three names were sent in for president of the Council, and secretary of the Union House Committee respectively, while two names were sent in for each of the offices of president and vice-president of the Union House Committee.

The nominees for president of the Students' Council are: Basil C. MacLean, Med. '26; R. B. Henry, Med. '24, and Howard O'Hagan, Law '25. Those who are running for the position of president of the Union House Committee are: Robert E. Dingman, Sci. '25, and T. F. M. Newton, Arts '25. The candidates for the vice-presidency of the Union House Committee are: C. H. McNaughton, Sci. '25, and N. W. Phillpot, Med. '25. Those nominated for secretary of the Union House Committee are as follows: Brock Jamieson, Comm. '25; J. Herbert Murphy, Arts '26, and John A. Wright, Med. '28.

Due to the student body being preoccupied with the recent Winter Carnival, there was very little interest taken in the nominations until the very last moment, when they began to pour in from all quarters. The time limit originally set was noon last Saturday. The Students' Council had a notice posted in the Union, prolonging the time until six o'clock on that day. Since it was thought that not enough students would see this notice, the time limit was again postponed until six o'clock yesterday. Only an insignificant number of nominations had been received before yesterday, but a large number came in between noon and six o'clock, so that, when the time was up, there were ten nominations in all. The elections will be held on March 12. It is expected that a great deal of interest will be taken in the campaign, which will culminate in a grand smoker on the eve of election day, at which all the candidates are expected to speak and to state their platforms. The undergraduates of McGill are urged to take a keen interest in the coming campaign, and make it a genuine sifting of student opinion. It is highly important that the men, who really represent the student body be returned to office. Thus, it is desired and expected that on the twelfth of March a hundred per cent vote will be cast at the Student Undergraduate Society polls.

James Packham, President of the Union House Committee, and President of the Commercial Society, would undoubtedly have run for the presidency of the Students' Council, but since he is uncertain as to his plans for next year, he has not accepted any requests to do so. He is now in the last year of the School of Commerce.

The list of nominees is here given with the accompanying names of their respective supporters:—

We, the undersigned, hereby nominate Howard O'Hagan, Law '25, for the position of President of the Students' Council for the session of 1924-25:—

CONCERT IN CAFETERIA OVER RADIO

To Be Given This Evening, and Again Thursday FROM 10 TO 12 P.M.

Radio Association and Union Management Inaugurate Pleasing Feature.

This evening from ten until midnight a radio concert will be given in the Union Cafeteria. This has been made possible through the co-operation of the president and members of the university's Radio Association with the officials of the Union. Thus for those who tonight go to the Union for a light repast, the enjoyment of a high-class programme will be added to the attractions of luncheon dainties.

A receiving set has been installed in the Union and another concert will be given on Thursday evening. The set was made by the Radio Association, each member contributing a part. To it has been added a loud speaker.

It is hoped that in the near future the association will be able to have a complete set of their own and that the members will be able to co-operate with the Union House Committee so that radio concerts may be held regularly at student gatherings.

With the receiving set and loud speaker installed in the cafeteria it will be possible to pick up the local broadcasting stations. On Tuesday and Thursday evenings the La Presse station broadcasts Joseph C. Smith's Orchestra and selections of the famous Mount Royal Hotel musicians will probably form a principal part of this evening programme which can be enjoyed by all who are present at the Union's late lunch.

That to-night's concert is being held is but another evidence of the growing activities of the Radio Association and the continued efforts of the Union management to satisfy the every requirement of the students.

The President and members of the set has been installed, have been keeping well in step with the remarkable progress made by the present day's great invention, and a most successful future seems assured for them in their work. As for the Union House Committee, its members have always been doing everything possible to satisfy the needs and pleasures of the university men.

RESULTS OF THE POLLING IN SCIENCE

Clem. Anson President For Next Year

VOTING CLOSE

Officers to be Installed at Annual Meeting on Thursday

The polling for the 1924-25 executive of the Science Undergraduate Society took place yesterday in the Engineering Building. As usual, the interest ran very high, and all classes participated, 60 per cent. of the students voting. The new executive is a very good one, and the personnel is very representative, which should augur well for the Society.

The offices of president and secretary were especially closely contested. Clem. Anson won the former position by 151 to 141 votes for Art Abbott's; while Lloyd Almond took the latter position with 108 votes—just 6 more than his closest opponent, Dave Boyd. Ged Merritt and Willard Mace had larger majorities over Conner and Cepeau. Kerr and Frith were elected by acclamation.

The results in particular follow:—

For President.

Clem Anson . . . . . 151
Art Abbott . . . . . 141

For Vice-President.

Ged Merritt . . . . . 181
Gordy Conner . . . . . 104

For Treasurer.

Willard Mace . . . . . 228
Louis Crapeau . . . . . 53

For Secretary.

Lloyd Almond . . . . . 108
Dave Boyd . . . . . 102

Duncan Moore . . . . . 42

M. H. Moore . . . . . 34

For Assistant Secretary.

Trevor Kerr, acclamation.

For Reporter.

J. R. Keith, acclamation.

All these men will be installed at the annual meeting of Science undergrads on Thursday at 5 p.m., in Room 33. At this meeting the president and treasurer present their annual reports.

The year for Science men has been quite a successful one in all departments. Although the Science team was unfortunate in interfaculty rugby, the class baseball, basketball and hockey teams have been showing up very well—two of the latter being now

What is your Verdict?

When you have tried Williams Shaving Cream your verdict will be as favorable as is your verdict about the new Hinge-Cap. The heavier, faster-working Williams lather, the fact that Williams lubricates the skin, the fine condition of your face after the shave, these qualities make men stick to Williams as faithfully as the Hinge-Cap sticks to the tube. As regards the Hinge-Cap, here is an offer we make:

$250 in Prizes

For the best sentence of ten words or less on the value of the Williams Hinge-Cap, we offer the following prizes: 1st prize $100; 2nd prize $50; two 3rd prizes, $25 each; two 4th prizes, $10 each; six 5th prizes, $5 each. Any undergraduate or graduate student is eligible. If two or more persons submit identical slogans deemed worthy of prizes, the full amount of the prize will be awarded to each. Contest closes at midnight March 14, 1924. Winners will be announced as soon thereafter as possible. Submit any number of slogans but write on one side of paper only, putting name, address, college and class at top of each sheet. Address letters to Contest Editor, The J.B. Williams Co., Ltd. ## NOMINATIONS AND VOTING.

In yesterday's issue we expressed two wishes, namely, that student politics would become fairly settled—for they had been extremely ruffled for a few days—and that no candidates for the four positions to be contested would be elected by acclamation. Today our wishes have been fulfilled. Undergraduate matters are in a much more satisfactory state, and no vacancies will go uncontested, for when the hour for closing was reached last night there were three nomination papers in for the office of President of the Students' Council, two for the Presidency of the Union, two for the Vice-Presidency, and three for the position of Secretary. This is extremely pleasing, and now it is only necessary for the undergraduates to show some interest in the coming contests. The date for elections is March the twelfth, and from now until then is no time for apathy or mental stupor. The twelfth is a highly important day and each student should know the candidates, their qualifications and their platforms, all of which he will be given an ample opportunity of doing. Voting with both eyes closed and with ears plugged is an all too common practice in the ranks of the indifferent. Rather than this it is far better to refrain from voting, for the throwing of chance ballots is a sin rather than a virtue. Get to know as much as you can about the men standing for office. Then exercise discretion, use wisdom, and cast your vote in the way you think proper. Do not allow bias, on account of faculty, fraternity, or club, to run away with reason. Do not swallow all rumours without first going through an extremely careful and investigative process of mastication. And above all play the game fair, play it square, so that the very best men will be elected and the forthcoming vacancies will be filled in the most fitting and the most effective manner.

CONDENSED COMMENT.

The elections for offices on the Science Undergraduate Society were closely fought, in the majority of instances, and we take this opportunity of congratulating those men whom the Science students have chosen for positions of responsibility. There was a regrettable feature, however, and that was the fact that only sixty per cent. of the qualified voters exercised their prerogative. When only six men in ten are alive enough to their responsibilities to go to the polls, the electorate must be suffering from a malicious mental disease, either plain ignorance or sheer laziness. To cast a vote only takes a few seconds but it is a matter of importance which should not be neglected.

After weeks of steady application, the final "copy" for the Annual has gone to press and "Old McGill" should appear on the Campus within a few weeks. Judging by proofs which have already been returned and by the final articles to go to the printers, this year's publication will be of an extremely high quality, a book to be justly proud of, a book which is a true record of McGill as a whole and not only of the Junior Year.

RESULTS OF THE POLLING IN SCIENCE

In the semi-finals, The Science Debating team showed great form in winning every debate in the interfaculty series, and the championship of the college.

In meetings, the Engineering students have been very fortunate in attending the talks given at the Engineering Institute every Thursday night by prominent men. Lectures and papers on Engineering and other subjects have been well received. The privilege of being present at these meetings is open to every Science student, and may have been availing themselves of the opportunities afforded thereby.

Social activities in Science have been confined to the dinner, which was a tremendous success this year. A dance was suggested, but it was not thought advisable this year. Many class dinners have been held.

Three men made trips to Toronto and Kingston this year to represent McGill at the Science functions at our sister universities. These men were accorded wonderful treatment and are enthusiastic over the good feeling that exists between the colleges. Ogilvie Leslie attended the annual "At Home" of the Science Department in Toronto, while Bob Hamilton and Selby Cope represented McGill at the Science banquets of Queens and Toronto.

At the meeting on Thursday afternoon Theatre night and other business will be discussed. Science is putting on a very good skit this year, and the Theatre Night executive is working hard.

Science men are expected out in full force on Thursday at 6 in Room 33.

The Editor

McGill Daily:

Dear Sir, Following inquiries received I write to give the student body some information regarding the selection of the chief executive of the Musical Association.

While the Musical Association was in the process of being formed some three or four years ago, copies of constitutions were obtained from various colleges such as Princeton, Pennsylvania and others. The Glee Club, the Mandolin Club and the Students' Orchestra, now replaced by the Classical Music Club were then combined under one governing body known as the McGill Musical Association.

The Association is formed by the three presidents of the above clubs, who appoint their president and secretary-treasurer who are not on the executive of any of the active clubs, and who are elected to office on the recommendation of the retiring committee to the three incoming Presidents at the close of the college year. The Vice President is elected from one of the three Presidents.

In drawing up our constitution, the committee, I believe, acted on the advice of the Students' Council at that time that means be adopted to have the executive of the Association selected by appointment as above stated until such a time when the Association is recognized by the Undergraduate Body, when election will take place by a general vote.

Now, as several suggestions have been put forward recently in "The Daily" tending towards the election by ballot rather than by appointment, I should like to see this proposal carried out if possible this year. That is the President of the Musical Association be elected to office by a popular vote;—but the Secretary-Treasurer be appointed as heretofore. Another reason for election by ballot is that the Undergraduates will likely give a little more attention to the activities of the various clubs, for their demands on the clubs are numerous and they give no thought to the difficulties of management and as long as they receive music at smokers, basketball, hockey and football games and other functions such as Theatre night.

Last year saw the Association for the first time as an active body and since then the activities of the clubs have been improving, are becoming self supporting and in time will be a definite source of revenue for the Students' Council. Thus not only should I like to see the president elected by popular vote, but sometime in the near future hold a seat on the Student's Council. Musical organizations are considered of great importance to college life in the States and always have some representative on the controlling board of the student's affairs.

In closing, might I state that the position to be filled requires a man to have more executive ability than musical ability and his work is to assist the clubs in whatever way possible and to secure close co-operation between them.

Sincerely yours,

R. S. Logan

President McGill Musical Association.

To the Editor:—

Since notices have appeared asking for nominations to the executive positions in the S.C.A. a number of people have voiced their questions as to who were considered members of the S.C.A. and who therefore could take part in the elections. It is to make some answer that I would take up your space.

The question of membership has been discussed many times in the last three years. Inasmuch as there is no fee it is not possible to keep lists and it is also difficult to know complete membership. The position taken at the beginning of this season was that anyone who showed any serious interest in the S.C.A. eg. by belonging to a study group, or sharing in any of the activities, would be considered a member. With this in mind, the present executives drew up a list of students whom they knew had formerly taken some active part in the work of the S.C.A. These for all practical purposes—have constituted the membership for this year.

It will be realized how arbitrary such a course was, and how incomplete such a list will be. It was not at all the intention to make the S.C.A. an exclusive group. Rather, should it be plain that on the basis of interest each individual student alone can determine whether or not he is a member.

FATHER HIGGINS TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Those who were privileged in hearing on Sunday last at St. Patrick's the distinguished English Franciscan friar, Father Higgins, will rejoice at the prospect of hearing him again from Wednesday to Sunday, during the four days retreat of the Roman Catholic students of McGill.

Father Nicholas Higgins will begin tomorrow evening at 7.15, his special series for the University students in Lady Chapel, adjoining St. Patrick's Church, at 273 Dorchester St. West.

Exercises will be held twice daily, in the morning at 7.30, and in the evening at 7.15.

Father Higgins' style, London accent, rich imagery and whole delivery, reminds one forcibly of Monsignor Benson, the Convent priest and son of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

These lectures are open to the student body at large without respect, to denomination.

Only the expression of his interest can tell anyone else his. By the application of this simple test it should be easy to determine one's status as regards the S.C.A. If after a moment's reflection the doubt persists—the answer is obviously negative.

Nominations will be received up to six o'clock on Thursday. The elections will be held at the annual meeting on March 13th.

Yours truly,

Henry H. C. Avison,
Acting Sec'y.

March 3rd, 1924.

Editor,

McGill Daily:—

Dear Sir, May I be permitted, through your columns, sincerely to thank my supporters in the recent elections of the Science Undergraduate Society. At the same time, I wish also to express my intention to carry out to the best of my ability the duties that I have been chosen to perform.

Yours very truly,
Clem. Anson (Sci. '25)

SNOW DEFEATED BY ANNAPOLIS MAN

All-Canadian Boxing Team Bested by American Midshipmen.

Snow of McGill was defeated Saturday in the international boxing assault held over the week end at Annapolis, Maryland. The Canadian team was chosen theoretically from all Canadian universities, but only one man from McGill, Snow and six from Toronto, were sent to the States. Snow, in the 135-pound class, sustained defeat at the hands of Charleson, the poppy Navy mid-slinger. To sum up all the results, Annapolis Naval Academy won four bouts, the All-Canadian team won two, and there were one draw. All the matches were three-round contests. The results are given in full as follows:-

115 pounds—Hayes, Navy, defeated Hubbard, Toronto, decision.

125 pounds—Gray, Toronto, defeated Griffith, Navy, decision.

135 pounds—Charleson, Navy, defeated Snow, McGill, decision.

145 pounds—Leach, Navy, defeated Gates, Toronto. Bout stopped in second round.

160 pounds—Lyons, Navy, and Black, Toronto, declared a draw.

175 pounds—Henderson, Navy, defeated Shute, Toronto, decision.

Unlimited—Mahon, Toronto, defeated Capt. Matthews, Navy, decision.

R.V.C. MUSIC CLUB COMPLETE SEASON

Activities for this Session are At An End.

At a meeting of the executive of the R.V.C. Music Club held recently, it was decided that no more meetings of the Club would be held this term. This decision of the executive will be learned with regret by R.V.C. students, for the Music Club has had a very successful season and has proved very popular.

Though the Club was formed only a little over a year ago, it has already justified its existence and can boast a large active membership. All who attended the Thursday afternoon meetings, which included delightful musical programmes and interesting talks on music and composers, invariably felt that their time had been spent pleasantly and profitably, and that the hour snatched from the realm of books and the pursuit of learning, had passed all too quickly. Among the composers discussed this year there are Debussy, Padewski and Mahler, and interesting papers dealing with their lives and works have been given. One meeting was devoted to the appreciation of National Folk Songs, while at another the merits and demerits of popular jazz music were discussed.

Much of the success of the meetings this year is due to the efforts of the retiring president, Miss Fielders, who has given her time and energy ungrudgingly to the work. It is hoped that in the future the Music Club will continue to be as it has been this year one of the college's most popular and strongly supported activities.

STUDENT LIFE IN BOLSHEVIK RUSSIA

Through the windows one may see the beginning of daylight. A head with dishevelled hair appears from under a ragged blanket and peers about the room. A man arises, scratches himself and yawns. Others are lying on the floor all around him. He looks about for a place to put his feet.

"Idiot," shouts a voice, "you stepped on my hand!"

Now in all corners voices are heard. People are getting up, yawning and stretching. Their beds are planks held up by boxes. Some of the students run out and return with bread. They sit on the beds to eat for there are no tables, chairs or benches. It is stifling in the room—a smell of dirty linen, blankets and sheepskins. So begins the day in a student boarding house where seven hundred are sheltered.

They have many different interests and inclinations, but all are bound together by a common determination to go on with their studies, come what may. They are accustomed to living together like a great family. They share with each other, help one another. If work is found, they divide it fairly. And they do not forget the girl-students.

Always if ten men go to unload wood from cars, they take along two women, for the women are willing to do anything, no matter how hard and exhausting in order to earn a little.

Upstairs are the women's quarters. Here it is cleaner than in the men's rooms. There is even a looking glass and a picture hanging on the wall. Also there are clean sheets and pillow cases. Ten women are sitting about the room. Some are sewing. One is kneading bread.

FELLOWSHIP FOR RESEARCH WORK

Scientific Investigation by Graduates of American Colleges

Five thousand dollars is available for award annually by the Charles A. Coffin Foundation, established by the General Electric Company, for fellowships in electricity, physics and physical chemistry, to graduates of the universities, colleges and technical schools of the United States who have shown, by the character of their work, that they could, with advantage, undertake or continue research work in educational institutions either in this country or abroad.

Although none of these fellowships can be obtained by McGill men since Canadian universities are not included among those to which they are available, still all who are interested in scientific education and scientific research cannot but be interested in knowing what is being done to encourage such work.

Six such fellowships were awarded last year, and opportunity is now open to make application for those to be given this year. The fellowships carry a minimum allowance of five hundred dollars per year, which sum may be increased to meet the special needs of applicants to whom they are in charge of the matter desires to award these fellowships to men who, without financial assistance, would be unable to devote themselves to research work. Applications will be welcomed from seniors as well as graduates of colleges, universities and technical schools, but any award to a senior will be conditioned upon his graduation.

Applications must be filed with the Committee by April 15, 1924, and should be addressed to W. W. Trench, Secretary, Charles A. Coffin Foundation, Schenectady, New York, from whom the necessary blanks may be obtained on request. Candidates who have been graduated for more than one year may mail their applications direct to the Secretary of the Foundation, at the same address.

Last year, these fellowships were awarded to the following: Henry N. Beets, a graduate of Calvin College and the University of Chicago, to continue work at the University of Chicago; Alfred L. Dixon, of the University of Illinois, to continue work at the University of Illinois; William L. Fink, a graduate of the University of Michigan, to continue work at the University of Michigan; Elmer Hutchison, Case School of Applied Science, to take up work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology; George L. Ross, Throop College of Technology and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to take up work at the California Institute of Technology. The Committee in charge of the matter consists of Dr. John C. Merriam, representing the National Academy of Sciences; Harris J. Ryan representing the American Institute of Electrical Engineers; and Dr. Charles F. Scott, representing the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education.

SCIENCE AND MEDICINE IN STIFF GAIT

Hockey Match Between Sci. '27 and Med. '25

2-2 SCORE

Lanthier Stars in Overtime Feature Yesterday

For the second time within four days, Medicine '25 and Science '27 battled to a tie in the interclass hockey league, when, yesterday after going through two fierce scoreless over-time periods they finished with the count as it was at the end of the regular session—two all.

Despite the fairly soft condition of the ice the game was fast, both teams fighting hard and going at a fast clip throughout. As play progressed and neither squad could draw ahead, the game tended to become rough in spots, but the strict and impartial refereeing of Dick Wilson kept things going smoothly.

Science's attack was always dangerous while the Med's combination was working well. Lanthier was probably their outstanding player.

Science opened the scoring in the first period when from a mix-up in front of the Med's nets, with the goalie full length on the ice, the puck was shoved home. Meds came back strong and held their own playing good combination. Going down the ice fast, Lanthier sent the puck across to Walker who scored on a fine shot. There was no more scoring until half-time and the period ended with the count one-all.

The second opened fast and science again drew ahead when Slattery went through the Med team alone and sent the puck between the posts. Lanthier evened the count on a long shot from centre which the Science goalie was not expecting. Science shot the puck home just after the final whistle sounded. The goal came too late to count, and after two furious over-time periods of five minutes each the score remained 2-2.

Only last Friday these same teams battled to a five-all tie.

Following are yesterday's lineups:

Medicine '25	Science '27
Goal	Philk
Defence	Senecal
Centre	Tinkess
Wings	Lanthier
Subs	Middieton
	Walker
	Thurber
	Kuntz

Tomorrow being Ash Wednesday there will be no issue of the "Daily," but it will appear again on Thursday as usual.

THE IMPERIAL

Janet Adler and her eleven feminine acrobats are the feature attraction of a varied bill of vaudeville at the Imperial this week. Miss Adler, who plays the piano, leads her company in a skit that is filled with snappy jazz, clever songs and musical girls. The daughter of Eve who plays the drum in the band is probably one of the sanest and most attractive looking clappers that ever twiddled a drum-stick.

In the first act, four Japanese, who call themselves the Ishikawa Bros. show that they are very versatile, giving clever exhibitions of walking on their hands and defying all laws of equilibrium. A gentleman from Italy or thereabouts, named Anthony then makes his appearance and with the help of his piano-accompanist and a very well perfected whistle gives the lovers of popular songs a treat.

Shimpon and Dean band the audience quite a few good laughs in the third act when they mollify on marriage and its good and bad effects. Their interpretation of dancing before and after marriage is particularly good.

Rome and Dunn, two healthy and prosperous-looking big boys sang several duets which were well appreciated by the audience. Their rendering of the famous song "I thought I'd die" was rather humorous, if not edifying. In the last act of the program, Frances Kennedy who possesses the faculty of raising her eyebrows in a most grotesque manner keeps the crowd in rous with her clever witticisms on America the land of the thirsty.

The feature picture, a Metro production starring Viola Dana, is called "In Search of a Thrill," and depicts very vividly the adventures of an American couple in the Montmartre district of Paris. Miss Dana does a clever piece of acting when she disguises herself as a feminine Apache in her search for a thrill among the denizens of the underworld of Paris.

She is supported by Warner Baxter and a notable cast. The latter weekly and a mildly amusing comedy complete the bill.

THE CAPITOL

Set in the old world atmosphere of the time of Louis XIII, "Under the Red Robe," the feature picture at the Capitol this week is provided with a scenic background rarely equalled in beauty even in the extravagant settings of the large number of pictures of the present day. The country surrounding the estate of de Rochefort in the South of France, remarkably beautiful to commence with, has had its beauty enhanced by unusually artistic photography. Not only the natural scenic background but the pomp and ceremony of the court scenes of the time faithfully portrayed.

The great Mantell is probably the outstanding figure of the cast and though his personality does not lend itself to the stateliness of Richelieu, his depiction of the pathetic figure of the deserted Cardinal demonstrates the ability which has made his name as an actor.

Alma Rubens is altogether charming in the role of de Rochefort's sister, but John Charles Thomas, more perhaps through lack of personal attractiveness than of histrionic ability, fails to impress.

Baroness Mararita Cika of Bobda de Csavossy, announced as an Hungarian Prima donna, runs true to form for that class with regard to pulchritude but possesses withal a pleasing voice.

The adventures of Felix the fat among the characters of Fairyland and an entertaining comedy entitled "In-had the Sailor" with the overture "Mignon" by the Capitol orchestra complete a well balanced programme.

JUNIORS TIE LOYOLA IN GRIM BATTLE

Hockey Game Marked by Heavy Body-Checking

SCORE 1-1

McGill to Play Winners of Section A Saturday Afternoon

In a game marked by heavy body checking, which at times developed into a regular pitched battle, McGill Juniors and Loyola fought through two regulation periods to a one—one tie at the Loyola rink last night.

The brand of hockey displayed was poor, and as the game progressed play became slow and uninteresting. The game has no effect on the league standing as far as McGill is concerned, as the Juniors have already made certain of the championship of their section. It is probable that M.A.A.A. and St. Patrick's will play off to decide the winner in Section "A" of the Junior League on Thursday afternoon. If this is so the winners may go up against the University Juniors, who lead Section "B" on Saturday afternoon.

Last night McGill started off fast, and had the Loyola squad backed up in their own territory. For a considerable portion of the opening period the University men had much the better of the play, and they scored first, following a pretty bit of combination work by Roncarelli and Abbott.

Loyola returned the attack and rushed the Red and White, but failed to score. Then heavy body checking began to feature the play, and soon a couple of the players were roughing it up. McLean put the two offenders off. The score remained one to nothing until the end of the period.

The hockey at the outset of the second was clean and fast. Both sides tried hard to count. Roncarelli was hit by the puck, which caught him in the eye, and had to go off the ice for the rest of the game. Once more both teams began to participate in heavy body checking, and rough tactics.

On an individual rush Noble scored for Loyola, bringing the count to one all. From this point almost to the end the game grew slow and uninteresting. Just at the close McGill started going good and rushed their opponents but though they tried hard and looked dangerous they failed to break the tie.

If ice holds out there will be a practice for the Juniors on Wednesday night at the Mount Royal Arena.

Last night McGill lined up as follows:-

Goal—Johnson.
Defence—Roncarelli and McGerrigle.
Centre—Mieles.
Forwards—Abbott and Eveleigh.

SURPRISES IN STORE FOR COMING EVENT

Orchestra Holds First Practice Under Alf. Farrell

THEATRE NIGHT

Committee Must Have Plays in by Thursday

Under the able directorship of "Alf" Farrell the orchestra for Theatre Nights is getting into first class shape. Alf Farrell played in the Orchestra last year and has since been appointed to this responsible position. Wally Malone is at the piano again, with this exception the orchestra is composed entirely of new men. Nevertheless it shows signs of developing into a very proficient body of music makers.

It is not yet decided definitely of how many pieces the orchestra will consist. It is probable that there will be seven violins, Cello violin, two flutes, traps, trombone and piano. However nothing is definite and there is still a chance for new men to turn out before the next practice; they are urged to do so as a large orchestra is essential.

Class representatives wear an air of mysterious secrecy. When approached on the matter of casts, or the nature of their play, they smile knowingly and walk away. Rumors are rife. One has it that Science is importing the whole of Ziegfeld Follies here. Another that Arts has sent to the north pole for a real Eskimo but these are just rumors. It is impossible to penetrate the grey walls of R. V. C. for now, but the neighbors complain of certain popular airs being played repeatedly; this points to songs or dancing, but who knows?

Law is the only faculty up to date who have handed in their manuscript. Other faculties are reminded that their scripts must be in the hands of the committee by Thursday, in order that things can be arranged for the general rehearsal which is to be held in the Union Ballroom, on Saturday afternoon. The times that the various faculties will be asked to rehearse will be announced in Fridays "Daily". Tickets are at the printers, and will be on sale some time next week. Everyone in connection with Theatre Nights seems very optimistic and prophesies an overwhelming success. It is going to be a show worth seeing.

"Bill, Bill, wake up. It's time to go to your lecture."

"That's all right, Jo. 'Sleep year."

"That beats me," muttered the freshman as he furtively glanced in the direction of the senior.

Ohio's "Whistling Coeds," a women's society has been formed to abolish the practice of path-making over the campus.

SINCERITY URGED IN STUDENT VOTING

Article in "Columbia Spectator" of Interest at This Time

Nominations are now all in for the McGill student elections and in a short time voting day will arrive. Meanwhile, the candidates for the various offices and their supporters will be busy campaigning; election talk will probably form the principal part of student conversation; and the elections generally will be of prime interest to all undergraduates.

At such a time it is interesting to note what a prominent American college paper has to say regarding student elections and student voting. The following appeared in the "Columbia Spectator" on the day when the undergraduates at Columbia were voting for members to their Student Board.

Today is election day and it devolves upon every student who has registered to go to the polling place and vote. The choosing of two men to form the nucleus for next year's Student Board cannot be taken too seriously. Not only is every student obliged to vote but it is part of his duty to vote intelligently and honestly.

Party political considerations of any nature whatsoever must be absolutely ruled out and in their stead set up only standards of true merit and ability. Since intramural elections of this sort form the stamping ground for the leaders of the electorate of the future, it is essential that every voter take his task seriously and cast his vote for the man he sincerely believes to be best qualified for the position to be filled. The college man in secular life must of necessity be the mentor for the mass of those who wield the franchise and if he cultivates the habit of dishonest voting, little better can be expected of the untutored

The effect of lax voting on the future politics of the nation is perhaps too far removed from East Hall to invoke a measurable degree of serious thought on the part of the Campus. But it must be borne in mind that dishonest voting also has its disagreeable effect on the Campus community. Aside from the deterioration of personal responsibility and character which are thereby wrought, dishonest voting is certain to be harmful to good college government. Placing unfit men in office because of political considerations which are, after all, of comparative insignificance, does not make for clean or efficient Campus government.

Let every student give the Student Board candidates earnest thought and when he has determined on his choices let him go to East Hall and cast his ballot. In the agenda of Campus activities Student Board elections must receive the position of first importance.

THE IDEAL UNIVERSITY DESCRIBED

Michigan President Describes the Perfect College

NO JAZZ
Students to be Treated as Men Intellectually as Well as Socially

An ideal university in which students will be treated as men intellectually as well as socially, the unfavorable influence of jazz bands and too many proms and ops, the building of fraternity houses too far from the campus, and the place of an aesthetic education in the lives of future citizens were among the things touched upon by President Marion L. Burton in his annual report to the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan.

"The student," President Burton said, "by virtue of existing traditions, and perhaps because of the prevailing organization of the entire educational system in America, in reality, in spite of what we may say or aim to do, is treated intellectually as a boy and socially as a man. A curious contrast in these respects exists between English and American universities. An English university man is housed by his college. He must be in his own room each night. He must be in at a certain hour. His college feels responsible for his conduct. Socially, in one sense, he is a boy.

"On the contrary, the American college student is independent. Whether he lives in a dormitory or not, he does largely as he pleases. Socially, in a rather astonishing way, he is a man.

"When it comes to the real business of the university, conditions are quite reversed. The English student goes to classes or not, as he chooses. Term time offers many real opportunities for broadening his interests and widening his horizons. He vacations are times for hard study. He has intellectual pursuits and pursues them. Mentally, he is a man.

"In America, the student must go to classes regularly, must follow a curriculum rather rigid, in the hope of forcing some continuity, correlation and concentration. Intellectually, in some respects, he is a boy.

"We may make attendance at classes in the upper years entirely optional for those who have given proof, not merely in marks, that they have mental capacity and serious intellectual interests. Education then will become an active affair, at least for the chosen few."

An ideal university will have an effect upon the students, the president continued, "if the campus is beautiful and well kept. If the buildings are clean and wholesome, if the entire aspect of the campus is one of orderly beauty and dignity it will inevitably produce similar qualities in the minds and lives of students. If a student occasionally is not constantly subjected to the influences of thoughtful, scholarly conversation, if daily he sees beautiful pictures and hears good music, if every time he turns around he meets some one who is really alive, if the campus is saturated with noble traditions and breathes an atmosphere of sound accomplishment, if here and there are silent reminders of the men who have frequented these halls and gone forth to build a better world, if the moment one touches the campus he is instinctively conscious of its breadth, liberality and humanity, if the whole place sounds a clear note of distinction, if at one moment there is unmistakable evidence of moral fibre and at another the warm breath of human understanding, if scholarship and learning are prized because of what they are in themselves, then the university is alive. These are the intangible realities of university life. They are its life breath. Doubtless they must come gradually and with age."

ALMA MATER DANCE PLANS COMPLETED

Tickets to be Placed on Sale Thursday

TWO ORCHESTRAS
Ball-room to be Re-decorated in Unique and Daring Color Scheme

On Friday, the fourteenth of March, the Alma Mater, most popular of all McGill dances will be held. As last year, both floors of the Union will be used but the dance committee feel that they will again be short of dancing space for all that would like to come. Last year a great number were turned away without a hope of getting in.

Last year the Daily reported that "This dance, the most elaborate of all college affairs, promises this year to eclipse the splendour of all former ones," and the borrowed remark is a fitting prophecy for this year's which will combine all the ingenuity of an efficient and experienced committee.

The orchestras will be the shapeliest ever. Adney's and Cloutier's disguised respectively as Hawaiian and Japanese musicians, will occupy the first and second floors. They are sure to provide music with a kick (last year they had "haunting melody.")

Decorating arrangements have so often been over-praised in advance, that even the most glowing description is liable to fall flat. This year, the committee has used up all their second-hand crepe-paper, and they are scouring the locality for something new, zippy and original. The art of The Messrs. Dennison will be taxed to its utmost to please and startle the dancers. Not even the most infinitesimal detail will be neglected.

The refreshments have not yet been arranged, but it has been said, in the popular argot, that "eats" will be "wonderful." Certainly, all who know the tireless labour and exquisite art of the mysterious Fleire, may "rest assured" that little dancing will be done after the supper period.

Finally, the elite, the creme de la creme de la snappe, will be there. Only the best, and, of necessity, the wealthiest of the University can attend. The faculty will be well represented, and there will be men from other colleges as well.

No one is "boosting" the dance. It doesn't need it. The first comers will get tickets.

The evening's programme follows:
Extra—Fox Trot.
1—Waltz.

FAT WOMEN TO BE COMING BEAUTIES

Prof. Jacques Werner, says the Toronto Variety a French physiologist has made what is classed as a startling discovery that within a period of five hundred years the beauty standard will have completely changed, and the fat lady will come into her own.

Back in the savage era the fat woman was considered beautiful, and even now in the heart of Africa this sentiment prevails. A little later in history came a revolution in the beauty standard. The Greeks portrayed beautiful women who had plump faces, weak chins and long noses.

Professor Werner says that these changes in the beauty standard are due to the efforts of all women to conform to a certain type of beauty existing at the moment. When everyone has succeeded in attaining a set style of beauty, that type ceases to be beautiful and becomes common. At present all the ladies of fashion advocate the slender silhouette. When everyone, after suffering the tortures of dieting, has become slender, that type will not be considered beautiful and the natural reaction in a beauty standard will result.

So, all of you who are suffering because you are not now considered beautiful, have patience or wish you were living in a later age.

Under the swinging
Street car strap
A homely co-ed stood,
And stood and stood,
And stood and stood,
And stood and stood.

SO?
So tall
So slim
So dark
A vamp?
Oh no
A broken

Lamp.

AIR FORCE TRAINING FOR MEMBERS OF THE C.O.T.C.

following:—
The Department of National Defence has published the
1. COURSE—
A course of instruction in aeronautics to enable members of the C.O.T.C. to qualify for commissions in the Air Force, will be held at Training Station of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

2. DURATION—
The course will consist of three terms, each of three and a half to four months duration, (approximately May 15th to September 1st) in three consecutive years.

3. To be eligible for selection a candidate must:—
(a) Be a member of the C.O.T.C., and have performed the requisite qualifying service and passed the practical examination for Certificate "A" C.O.T.C.
(b) Be following a course of study as an undergraduate leading to a degree in Applied Science.
(c) Be physically fit for Air Force Service as a pilot.
(d) Be unmarried.
(e) Be under twenty-one years of age upon the commencement of the course.
(f) Be recommended by the Military Committee of the University as likely to become an efficient Air Force Officer.
(g) Give an understanding to complete the whole course.

Before attending the second term, the candidate will be required to be in possession of Certificate "A" C.O.T.C.

4. STATUS—
During the period that candidate is in attendance at the Royal Canadian Air Force Training Station, he will be granted a temporary commission as provisional pilot officer, and will receive pay and allowances in accordance with Pay and Allowance Regulations for the Royal Canadian Air Force. The proposed rates are as follows:—
Pay During the first term ..... $3.00 per day
During the second term ..... $3.50 per day
During the third term ..... $4.00 per day
Allowances—While travelling to and from the Royal Canadian Air Force Training Station, candidates shall receive a travelling allowance of $5.00 per day.

5. MESSING—
Candidates will be required to live in the officer's mess while at the Royal Canadian Air Force Training Station. The mess will draw a free ration on behalf of each candidate, but in addition, the candidate will be required to pay a mess bill to cover the additional cost of messing, of approximately 75 cents per diem.

6. QUARTERS, UNIFORM & MEDICAL ATTENTION—
While under training, candidates will be provided with uniform, camp equipment and quarters. Medical and hospital services will be provided as necessary without charge.

7. QUALIFICATIONS—
On completion of the course, candidates will be eligible for:—
(a) Appointment as Pilot Officer in the Royal Canadian Air Force for permanent duty (the number of vacancies for such appointments will, in all probability, be very limited).
(b) Appointment as Pilot Officer in the Royal Canadian Air Force for active duty twenty-eight days in every two years, and in emergency.
(c) Transfer to the reserve of officers in which case they will not be liable for further service, except in time of emergency.

8. APPLICATIONS—
Applications of legible candidates, with documents and recommendations, are to be forwarded by District Commanders to National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa, not later than March 1, 1924.

9. NUMBERS
The number of candidates that will be accepted will depend upon the funds and facilities available.

10. COMMENCEMENT
The second term of Course number one and the first term of Course Number two will commence at the Royal Canadian Air Force Station, Camp Borden, on May 12, 1924.
Form of Application should be obtained from the Orderly Room at once, and dealt with immediately.

F. S. LAWRENCE,
Captain & Adjutant,
McGill Contingent C.O.T.C.

VAN DOREN SAYS NOVEL SHOWS NATION'S IDEALS

Declaring that novels reflect the changing ideals of a nation, Professor Carl Van Doren, Literary Editor of the Century, asserted that the exhilaration and acceleration of the present-day America were manifested in the American novels. Dr. Van Doren spoke at the weekly Barnard assembly in the Brinckerhoff Theatre yesterday on the "New Novel for the New America."

"As the pioneer spirit has disappeared from our life," the professor said, "men have been forced to exert themselves in other directions. In the future the power to think will be required as well as strong hands and strong will in a character. This experiment leaves much room for novelty, and should be interesting to watch."

Dr. Van Doren began his analysis of the contemporary American novel with the appearance of Sinclair Lewis' "Main Street" in 1920. This volume marked the first time that an American author had assumed the right to narrate on the immorality of being bored and living a seeming virtuous, but dull life. "Sluggish company has," he added, "as bad an effect as evil company."

"Main Street" he continued, showed that the worst fault of Gopher Prairie was not the lack of virtue, but their absence of intellectual ability. Never before had the tedium of standardized life been pictured as dull and stupid. This issue of standardization in individual life was carried out further in Lewis' later book "Babbalanza."—Columbia Spectator.
